

A diagram showing a split-screen layout. A vertical white bar is positioned in the center, separating the left and right content areas. The left area is labeled 'left content' and the right area is labeled 'right content'. At the bottom left, there is a legend with a small white rectangle followed by the text 'draggable bar'.

left
content

right
content

 draggable bar